School of Health and Society

Lecturer in Policing – Grade 8

Directorate of Social Sciences

(Ref:GRP84)

Role Title: Lecturer in Policing

Reports To: Head of Policing

Overview

Welcome to the School of Health and Society– a forward-thinking, dynamic school with a commitment to lifelong learning and real world impact. Our School of Health & Society is known for our track record of collaborating with a wide range of industry partners across health and social care to produce highly skilled graduates with real work experience.

We are at an interesting time in the Higher Education sector. There is significant change in terms of oversight, student expectations and changing demographics and we are trying to do things differently so that we stay ahead of these changes. Our connection to industry is stronger than ever and we're proud to have more partnerships with SMEs than any other Greater Manchester University. In addition to this we have responded excellently to the challenges of the pandemic to maintain the quality of the student experience and we have learned new ways of working that we will take forward.

Salford has a rich history and an exciting future. We sit at the heart of the Northern Powerhouse and actively engage with stakeholders across the region to address the identified health and social care outcomes linked to the devolution of power to Greater Manchester's local authorities. We have always been committed to addressing the needs and aspirations of our local community.

Our School of Health & Society is one of the largest providers of nursing, midwifery, allied health professionals, counselling & psychotherapy and social work education programmes in the UK, known for our track record of collaborating with a wide range of industry partners across health and social care to produce highly skilled graduates with real work experience.

We are also experts in the social sciences sector and are known locally, regionally, nationally and internationally for our applied research into the interface between culture, digital, health, wellbeing, housing, criminal justice and social care. We effect social and cultural change by research-informed engagement and practice.

The successful candidate will join the Directorate of Social Sciences and will work in a thriving and busy team. You will be responsible for contributing to an exceptional student experience through the delivery of teaching, research, business and enterprise engagement activity. We are looking for a colleague who shares our values and passion for teaching and is committed to providing the highest quality student experience.

The University of Salford has made a strategic decision to develop Policing as part of its portfolio of professional subject areas. Responding to the Police Educational Qualifications Framework (PEQF) we have designed a new Professional Policing Degree (which commenced in September 2021) and have been successful in consolidating a partnership with Greater Manchester Police, to deliver a Police Constable Degree Apprenticeship and Degree Holder Entry Programme.

We are developing a team of Policing staff to meet this exciting new initiative (including Professional Policing Degree) and are looking for people who have experience of and a passion for Policing. This is an opportunity to influence the education and training of a major Police force and to bring your expertise to assist them in meeting their ambitions and developing our new university Centre for Policing.

Role Detail

Role Purpose

To develop and deliver high-quality teaching material across a range of Policing modules or short programmes. To contribute to the planning, design and development of Policing programmes. To engage in scholarly activity and undertake high quality research.

- Indicative level of membership to AdvanceHE: Fellow

Before applying to work with us, it is important that you have read the Salford Behaviours.

The Salford Behaviours are a collection of TEN behaviours which have been identified from a cross section of colleagues across the University as those which are the most effective in helping us all to achieve the University's ICZ strategy. They are the vehicle which underpins all of the changes we want to make and a framework of language to enable effective conversations and interactions to take place, particularly around performance, development and talent management. It also enables a common understanding of what effective looks like.

At Salford, it is how we do things that is as important as what we do. We want people to work for us who feel an affinity with the behaviours that are important to us.
